BALLAD OF THE S S TROOP

(to an obvious tune)

Soldiers fighting in the East.
Fearless men against the Slavic beast.
Men who fight for Farben and Krupp,
The brave men of the SS Troop.

Double S upon their chest,
These are men - the Führer's best.
One hundred men try to join the group,
But only three make the SS Troop.

Trained to live for the Führer's goals.
Trained to deal with Jews and Poles.
Men who fight like Jürgen Stroop
Courage take from the SS Troop.

Double S upon their chest,
These are men - the Führer's best.
One hundred men try to join the group,
But only three make the SS Troop.

Back at home a Hausfrau waits.
Her SS man has met his fate.
He has died in Deutschland's quest,
Leaving her his last request:

"Put the Double S on my son's chest.
Make him one of the Führer's best.
He'll be the man for an Einsatz Group.
Have him join the SS Troop."

Now we come to the "Winter 1912" builds and removals. Russia must remove one unit, but the Gamesmaster has been unable to contact him to get this removal. We will therefore proceed under the assumption that Russia removes the fleet dislodged from Denmark. If this, in fact, does not happen, play of the game will be held up for 2 weeks; otherwise it will be accelerated by 2 weeks. France builds a fleet in Brest. The deadline for "Spring 1913" moves is NOON, SATURDAY 11 AUGUST.

HONOLULU (7 Nov. 1912, IRMS): Czar Kenneth is reported gravely ill. Dr. Dmitri Olenin, the Czar's physician, said that the Czar had had a stroke, brought on, doubtless, by overwork and continual disappointments.

The condition of Emperor Kenneth is critical.

PARIS: At long last the fall of Denmark seems assured. The question remains as to when the Turks will start a new invasion of Russia. She can't defend them forever or does she think she can?

SQUILLY ISLANDS (29 Nov. 1912): Pope Sylvester IV today expressed his deepest sympathy at the illness of Tsar Kenneth. "The poor man is so distraught," the Pontiff said, "that he cannot even spell his title correctly."

The Pope has sent the Tsar, as a gesture of good-will, the Fourth Platoon of the Pope's Own Regiment of Amazon Axewomen, to stand guard over his sickroom.

ENGLAND (Davidson): Removes F North Sea. TURKEY (Pournelle): Builds A Con, F Smy.

GRAND SEVASTOPOL BIASTS PRESS RELEASE DELAYS IN GRAUSTARK

SEVASTOPOL: "Mmmmmph! Of all the nerve!" exclaimed Admiral Bayleov upon discovering that the noted publication GRAUSTARK, which regularly features every sort of immorality and international misrepresentation (and which, indeed, aims to foster the growth of same) had stooped so low as to refuse to admit that the great and heroic Sevastopolian fleet had again ventured from port last spring. "It is all in vain, however," declared Bayleov, noting that "creeping Borgiaism will inevitably triumph over corrupt Ottomanism." Bayleov also vowed that the might of Sevastopol's fleet will be used to aid in Lucrezia's annexation of Anatolia. "Our only regret is that Germany may win this war before Balkania has a chance to finish off Turkey," concluded the Grand Admiral.

Additional 1966AA press releases begin on p. 5.

"Winter 1910" builds and removals are:

ENGLAND (Dygart): No move received. Gamesmaster removes F Tyr & F Mid, and calls for stand-by "Spring 1911" moves for England.

GERMANY (Latimer): Builds F Kie & A Ber.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY (Walker): Builds F Tri & A Vie.

The deadline for "Spring 1911" moves is NOON, SATURDAY 12 AUGUST 1967.

Underlined moves are not possible. The High Combatant Powers hold the same supply centers as they did at the end of "1901", except that Norway has passed from England to Russia. (See GRAUSTARK #132, p. 1) England removes A Edi. Russia may build 1 new unit; this build should be submitted, together with the "Spring 1903" moves, by the deadline of NOON, SATURDAY 12 AUGUST 1967. Other players may make their moves conditional on the type and location of the Russian build.

VIENNA: To our friends in St. Petersburg: We're still here, will be in touch.

THE MINISTRY OF MISCELLANY

As we do not expect to return from Lake George until 12 or 13 August, players ought to write in their moves rather than phoning. # Lon Atkins has ceased publication of Elitz, owing to lack of reader interest. # In 1967U, Terry Kuch should send stand-by moves for Germany, and Margaret Gemignani should send them for France for "Spring 1903". # Jim Latimer writes that his allies should not suspect him of perfidy; he's just been too busy to write for some time. # James Sanders has absolutely vanished; Euralian will be published by someone else. Jack Chalker is resuming Barad-Dur. # This publication is not edited under the supervision of Bangs Leslie Tapscott. # 1967F will resume publication in GRAUSTARK in the next issue. # Allen Calhmer is planning an across-the-board Diplomacy tourney in New York; see GRAUSTARK #134 for details, and #136 for further information. # We're nearly caught up with the press releases; now for the letter column - Real Soon Now. # Corrections are solicited for the rosters, which begin on p. 7. # Rod Walker returns to the USA in the Fall. There's Erehwon like home. # STR8BECK #2 will be out in 3 weeks.

1966AA - PRESS RELEASES

SALONA (15 August 1911): The Government of the Federal Empire of Balkania announced today that products of "Svetsoxa, Inc." had been banned from the Empire and that their importation was prohibited. "It is shameful," said Interior Minister Hagan Gebitch, "that the fine imperial name has been traded upon by these foul entrepreneurs in New York. It is high time the Government put an end to this foolishness. Curse them, curse them!" Herr Gebitch, by the way, is the son of the famous Rhein Jeweller, Alberic, who was famous for his curses.

NEW YORK (17 August 1911): Reporters today asked Mr. Nightstand, the eminent publisher who is chairman of the board of Svetsoxa, Inc., whether the ban placed on his corporation's products by the Balkanian Empire had affected their sale. "You might say that it had," the genial entrepreneur replied. "Last night Svetsoxa Inc. closed on the Stock Exchange at 27 $\frac{1}{4}$. Today it opened at 33 $\frac{1}{2}$, and the ticker is now running 35 minutes behind on "buy" orders. As for the Balkanian Interior Minister's statement, I have received a copy, and I can easily believe that he is a son of a Gebitch."

QUEENS (3 September 1911): Assisted by the Bayleov Squadron, the Imperial Balkanian Fleet has captured the State of New York. The State has been proclaimed a province of the Empire, and is being governed by Her Imperial Majesty's cousin, Vlad Borgia. Living up to his nickname, Governor Borgia immediately had several enemies of the state impaled, including the "False Svetsoxa" and the Bishop of New York, who refused to dedicate a church to the family progenitor, St. Lucre Borjiyya (St. Lucre the Filthy.) His Excellency then dedicated New York's main cathedral to St. Lucre, and dedicated several other churches to the family saints: St. Mohandas Gandia Borja (the Skinny), St. Daniel Bortsyä (who wrote the book), St. (Pope) Alexander VI, St. Abner Bo'juh (the Little), St. Henbane Borgia (the dead-ly), and St. Cleopatra Ankh-meri-Bor-dja (the Cute). His Excellency announced that Roscoe Conklin had been elevated by Her Holiness the Pope to the dignity of Cardinal. Later in the day Cardinal Conklin announced a change to the Mass in the New York area, in which the Offertorium would now constitute 50% of the length of the Mass.

NEW YORK (4 September 1911): Trading in Svetsoxa Inc. slumped drastically after the news that Vlad Borgia, military governor of New York, had impaled the alleged Balkanian Princess about whose defection the booming new corporation was formed. However, a drastic action by her manager, Mr. Nightstand, instead sent Svetsoxa stock to a new high. At 11:30 AM, by which time Svetsoxa Inc. had slumped to 8 $\frac{1}{2}$, Mr. Nightstand appeared on the floor of the exchange with the Princess, who appeared to be in excellent physical condition as with no apparent effort she lifted a well-known "Bear" high over her head and pitched him into the gallery, knocking over a trader in onion futures and two visiting Sheboygin schoolteachers. Asked about reports that she had been impaled, the brawny Princess replied, "It just tickled a little. Now I've got to get back to my job at the docks, or my pay will be docked again."

Trading in Svetsoxa Inc. closed at 51 $\frac{1}{4}$.

BEOGRAD (5 September 1911): Her Holiness the Pope today announced the canonization of one of Her Roman ancestors, Orgiastus Borgius. The feast day of St. Orgiastus is May 1. Her Holiness also announced that the reason the English forces failed to move during the Spring campaign was that "I put a hex on 'em, heh, heh." Her Holiness was seen holding an Infant Prince James doll, which was full of large pins, several sewing needles, sharpened paper clips, osmium phonograph needles, cocktail skewers, tie tacks, thumb tacks, carpet tacks, excise tax, and a shilling nail, the last driven through the head. Indicating the nail, Her Holiness commented, "He didn't even feel that one."

STRASSBURG (12 September 1911): The Balkanian Western Army, under the command of Grand Prince Caesare Bordsha, today crossed through this border town into the territory of the former state of France. Upon leaving, His Highness was presented with the Iron Cross by General MacHit von Schnapps for His services in protecting the Reich.

SEVASTOPOL: Is it true that Lucrezia is bed-ridden since her massive dosage of Bordschabiazin?

SEVASTOPOL: Tsar Andre today announced that Grand Sevastopol has declared war on Turkey. "We are in dynastic alliance with Balkania due to My marriage to the Empress," He announced. "Grand Sevastopol shall follow dutifully whatever devious course Balkanian foreign policy may take. Since Balkania has seen fit to declare war on the perfidious Turks, so does the Grand Empire of Sevastopol." Accordingly the fleet has been ordered out to sea.

WITH THE BLACK SEA FLEET: "Smashing!" exclaimed Admiral Bayleov upon hearing the news that the fleet has been ordered to engage the Turks once again. The admiral neglected, of course, to mention who would be smashed.

ANKARA: Kill the infidel Austrians first!!

ROME (30 October 1911): Her Holiness, Pope Joan II, rode triumphantly into Rome today and reestablished Papal rule over the Holy City at the head of Her armies. In a fierce battle in lower Italy, the forces of the Balkanian Empire, bearing the Papal banner, defeated a large force of German boy scouts attempting to maintain control of the capital of the former Roman Empire. Her Holiness proclaimed a day of universal rejoicing throughout the Christian world for the delivery of Rome. Also for Her birthday (31 October). Her Holiness also requested the presence of the German Emperor, Wilhelm III, at Her summer retreat in northern Italy.

CANOSSA (15 November 1911): Returning to Her summer retreat after the Grand Birthday Orgy in Rome, Her Holiness Pope Joan II met with the German Emperor here today. In the Cathedral of St. Felicia the Willing, Her Holiness proclaimed the revival of the Holy Roman Empire of the German Nation, crowning Wilhelm with the Iron Crown of Charlemagne and proclaiming that France, Iberia, England, Scandinavia, and Russia were all rightfully parts of the revived Empire. Her Holiness also crowned the German Emperor as Emperor of Europe, ceding to Him all Balkania's possessions in the New World except for New England and California. As Empress of Balkania, the First Lady of Europe acknowledged Germany's victory in the current war and recognized Wilhelm as temporal primate of Europe.

1967V - PRESS RELEASES

LONDON: After initial raids along the coasts by "privateers", as they are officially designated by the government, this war, which was to be the doom of civilization (or as Balfour put it last month, "the end of the British Empire, which of course means much the same thing"). After some initial skirmishes in the colonies and the Pacific, nothing. For some three months there has been no violence whatsoever, except for some skirmishes in the Balkans. Of course Kier Hardie and his Labourites claim it was the general strike of December which caused the lull, but even he finds it difficult to claim victory for the workers.

The reason for Labour's not trusting their own claims is that the war is sure to start again in just a few weeks as the thaw of spring drifts north. And the war has not really ever stopped for Krupp and his like the world over: Arms shipments clog the sea-lanes and dreadnoughts are being rushed to completion in Portsmouth and Liverpool: The Fifth Fleet.

Worst of all, from the point of view of Townsend and the Government, is the loss of a vote of confidence over the measures to create the Fifth Fleet, which was voted down by the Commons in a strange show which had Tories crossing the aisles to vote with Hardie and his tweeded minority. The Fleet was at last approved, but the Government has fallen. Townsend has predicted that his government will remain in power, but that it will not have the 394-276 margin that it enjoyed at the turn of the century. He expects something on the order of a 340-330 margin at best, with the Liberals possible targets of coalition if things go their worst.

I leave tomorrow with the Second Army for Norway, which will hopefully be well out of the war-zone at least until I am safely there. Townsend has pledged to defend it against all attacks, and Olaf has asked him to put up or shut up with the Second Army. - Robert Kirkbride, Reuters.

PARIS: My job is death. I work clandestinely for R. A. I. D., which translates from the French as "My Gun is Quirk". My organization hunts down Commies and electronic "bugs" and kills them dead! Right now I'm on the trail of Fred Muskovitski, an agent of theirs on vacation from a faculty position at Brown University, an ideal place

After an hour's search, I found him lurking behind a parking meter, waiting for innocent passersby.

"Pardonez me, Monsewer," I said in my best Friendly French Dialogue Book accent, "Are vous from Providenc3, R. I.?"

"Why yes," he replied, with a Commie glint in his eye.

"Are you, therefore, Fred Muskovitski?"

"I'll try to be direct and to the point in my answer to the question which you have placed before me: Yes."

I shouted triumphantly. "You, then, are the famed Rhode Island Red!" I whipped out my Daisy Luger.

He clucked his tongue in reply.

The joke was too terrible. I punched my safety catch and reached for the trigger. He held up a finger, asking for King's X, and pulled out his secret weapon. We couldn't separate without at least one good fight scene. He held a rectangular, metal object in the palm of his hand. My eyes bulged in horror as he (to be continued).

MUNICH: General Heischberg remarked to his principal aide, Major Dirac, that by his statistics the location of the German fleet was uncertain. "The surer I am about how strong it is the less I know about where to find it," he snarled. Major Dirac replied that he thought "Some positions could be excluded."

PARIS (Deutsche Presse): Despite pleas from every civilized state THE ENGLISHMAN has done the detestable thing. The same sure hand that slaughtered helpless women and children during the subjugation of Mother Ireland doomed a small hero; at 2200 yesterday Snoopy, in an obsolete Sopwith-Dromedary, was ordered to the Eastern Front.

His appetite for death stimulated rather than slaked by the bloody destruction of the innocent fishermen of the French Channel Defense Force, David I (Bloody Dave) hopes to avoid the righteous wrath of the high gods by offering up this paragon of dogdom on the altar of Mars.

Mankind pleas, "Red Baron, hold your hand!"

BERLIN: Despite the treacherous attack of the Tartar hordes on their erstwhile German allies, the Kaiser today announced that the Imperial German Navy, in response to pleas from the oppressed population, was occupying Norway. "Scandinavia will not become another Ireland," he said.

As a humanitarian gesture, the Red Baron has been detailed to an Austrian aerial circus in Venice. It is hoped that he and the mad English dog will never meet.

HOLLYWOOD: People in the know have passed the word that the German monarch's sole reason for warring with Britain is his love for dogs. Those of us who have met the Emperor can but agree.
